able to play as a pilot of some wolfenstein-style german craft for the vaterland. 10/10. "Meteorblitzkrieg" is easily the better of the two DLC Missions. In this mission you'll play as the Nazis piloting Walkyrs escorting the Zeppelin Carriers. Unlike the other playable ships in the game, the Walkyr cannot be upgraded but has its own strengths and weaknesses. It lacks shielding but has some pretty resilient hull integrity, has a great low-end speed but lacks a little when the pedal's to the floor. Both weapon systems pack a decent punch, but neither of the two recharge, so every shot counts. The lack of shielding or energy weapons also means that you cannot shift energy from system to system, making this the most difficult mission offered. Overall, if you enjoyed the base game and want one last challenge, then you'll find that this DLC is worth the $2.99.
